

Master in Management and Development of Tourism Destinations by the Faculty of Economics of the University of Algarve (UAlg), Ana Rita has a degree in Sociology by the same institution, and is doing a PhD. Currently her professional activity is developed at the Division of Entrepreneurship and Technology Transfer, of UAlg, where she coordinates KIMERAA project (INTERREG). As a researcher at the University of Algarve, she has collaborated in the implementation, among others, of the following studies: "Trade in the Algarve: Strategic Development Scenarios", "Low Cost Activity Monitoring System in Faro International Airport", "Profile of tourists visiting the Algarve", "The Quality of Life of Population in the Municipality of Faro". Outside of UAlg she has collaborated in several research projects in the field of Sociology such as "The ESF in Promoting Social Inclusion of Disadvantaged Groups" at IESE and Quaternaire, "Study of Impact Assessment of the Regional Strategy for the Low Density Areas of the Algarve" CET-ISCTE, or "Social Quality and Changing Relationships Between Work, Care and Welfare in Europe (WORKCARE), CIES-ISCTE. Ana Rita is also involved in several EU Projects on the Atlantic Area Transnational Programme, Programme MED, ENPI CBCMED, INTERREG IVC, INTERREG IVB SUDOE, and 7th Framework Programme.

---

* Faculty of Economics, University of Algarve, Portugal